

INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND

The Fund's objective is to establish a portfolio for its Investors that generates positive returns – higher than the yields available on the domestic money market – under all circumstances, i.e. the Fund pursues a "total return" strategy. The Fund seeks to achieve this goal by selecting, through various analytical techniques, the asset classes and investment funds that have the greatest price growth potential and make investments through the purchase of investment units and collective investment securities. The Fund invests primarily in investment funds managed by VIG Befektetési Alapkezelő Magyarország Zrt., but may also purchase other investment funds and collective investment securities in its portfolio for diversification purposes or if the given asset class is not yet covered by the Fund Manager's funds. In order to ensure liquidity, the Fund may hold in its portfolio discount treasury bills and government bonds issued by the Government Debt Management Agency (ÁKK), interest-bearing securities guaranteed by the Hungarian State, and bonds issued by the MNB. As the range of possible investments includes investments denominated in foreign currency, ETFs and investment units, the Fund's investors may also bear some foreign exchange risk. According to the Fund's investment policy, it invests or may invest more than 80 percent of its assets in investment units or other securities issued by a collective investment undertaking. However, the Fund does not intend to hold more than 20% weight in any one investment fund, except for the VIG Hungarian Money Market Fund, VIG Hungarian Bond Fund, VIGMoneyMaxx Emerging Market Total Return Fund, VIG Alfa Absolute Investment Fund, VIG Bondmaxx Total Return Bond Fund, VIG Maraton ESG Multi Asset Fund, VIG Panoráma Total Return Fund and VIG Ózon Annual Capital Protected Fund, the weight of which may be as much as 100% within the Fund's portfolio.

MARKET SUMMARY

Bears dominated the US equity markets in the first half of March, with all major stock indices falling. The total capitalization of the US stock market fell by 4,000 billion dollars, a significant part of this huge sum ending up on European markets. It is difficult to say at this stage whether America has simply undergone a correction or whether we are witnessing the start of an overseas bear market, but it is clear that the belief in American exceptionalism has not prevailed. From a macroeconomic point of view, it is not clear where the United States is going either. Growth remains strong, but there are signs of weakening, for example with slowing household consumption. Inflation is more stubborn than the Fed had expected, limiting the scope for interest rate cuts. Europe, on the other hand, has received an extraordinary boost, with many investors looking for undervalued European equities after the sell-off in the US stock market. Significant money was poured into defense sector stocks on the uncertain outcome of the Russia-Ukraine war and the expected increase in defense spending. Germany's DAX stock index rose to a historic high, supported by the acceptance of Germany's economic policy turnaround and the massive infrastructure and defense spending that it entails. Long-term bond yields fell and the euro strengthened, partly due to a weakening US dollar.

The Fund's share price continued to rise in March. Our absolute return funds were not impacted by the fall in developed equity markets, helped by the good performance of regional equity markets in Central and Eastern Europe. Our Panorama fund was the best performer during the month of March, thanks to a good allocation to commodities (copper, oil long) and good stock selection.
