

VIG Central European Equity Investment Fund

B series EUR MONTHLY report - 2025 APRIL (made on: 04/30/2025)

INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND

The aim of the Fund is to invest on the stock market of the Central and Eastern European Region. It is for investors who would like a share in the long-term performance of listed companies in the region. In the development of the portfolio of this Fund, the priority is to optimise the aggregate risk of the securities added to the Fund. In order to reduce risks, the Fund Manager exercises the highest degree of diligence when selecting the securities to be included in the portfolio. It analyses the risk factors of the securities, and supports its decisions with in-depth calculations.

The Fund purchases stocks issued by companies in Central and Eastern European region (primarily Hungary, the Czech Republic, Poland, Austria, Romania, secondarily Slovenia, Croatia, Slovakia), but it may also invest in the stocks of other developing and developed foreign companies as well as other collective investment securities. Due to the strategy of the Fund, it may also invest in assets denominated in foreign currency. The Fund may hedge some or all of its foreign currency risk using forward currency positions against the target currency. The Fund Manager has the discretionary right to reduce the foreign currency risk of the currency positions differing from the Fund's target currency, based on the market processes by concluding hedge transactions. In addition, the use of equity and index futures is permitted in order to effectively build the Fund's portfolio. To ensure liquidity, the Fund wishes to add government securities issued by member states of the EU, OECD, or G20 to its portfolio.

MARKET SUMMARY

The so called "Independence Day" on April 2nd was the biggest event of the month, when Donald Trump announced the long-awaited trade tariffs. The level of the tariffs was higher than the pessimistic scenarios, leading to a significant market sell off. Post-announcement tensions were eased by news of tariffs being postponed and negotiating initiatives by various countries, but the market remained depressed. Amid growing fears of a recession in the US economy, equity markets continued to show high volatility, with bond markets seeing the 10-year US Treasury yield rise to 4.6%. Recent quarterly reports, such as weak performances from UnitedHealth Group and Pepsi, warn that defensive sectors may also be struggling. Conversely, companies that get some sort of exemption from tariffs, such as Apple, may be able to outperform. As markets fall, several European investment institutions see the prospect of a recession as growing. Bond markets are expected to follow US trends and yields could rise on inflationary pressures. The defense and infrastructure sectors may continue to be more attractive as European economic stimulus measures could further boost the performance of these sectors.

Despite a very weak start at the beginning of the month, regional stock indices closed April strongly. At the beginning of the month, the announcement of high US tariffs led to a double-digit fall in many regional stocks, but by the end of the month most indices had risen to new highs. Hungarian and Polish markets performed strongly, while the Czech and Romanian markets lagged behind. During the month, the Fund significantly outperformed its benchmark index, mainly as a result of overweight positions in Hungary and Poland and underweight positions in Romania and Slovenia. A significant change in the Fund's strategy was the change in the Fund's benchmark index from the previous composite MSCI index to the CETOP 5/10/40 index.
