MARKET SUMMARY

Polish bonds performed weak in May: yields increased by 15 basis points on the 3-year maturity, by 28 basis points on the 5-year maturity, and by 15 basis points on the 10-year maturity. In early May, for the first time since autumn 2023, there was a change in the base rate. The Monetary Council implemented a 50 basis point rate cut, which was in line with market expectations, bringing the base rate to 5.25%. However, central bank governor Glapiński maintained a hawkish stance, stating that although inflation has decreased, the risks have not entirely disappeared—especially food prices and service inflation remain problematic. The first round of the Polish presidential election also took place in May, making the emphasis on central bank independence and policy strictness particularly important. Rafał Trzaskowski and Karol Nawrocki emerged as the leading candidates, but since neither secured an outright majority of 50%, a second round is scheduled for early June. Turning to economic data, preliminary figures show that inflation came in below market expectations of 4.3%, with prices rising by 4.1% year-on-year in May. This figure was significantly supported by falling global fuel prices. First -quarter GDP growth was strong, with the Polish economy expanding by 3.2% year-on-year, placing it among the top-performing EU countries. The Purchasing Managers' Index (PMI) fell to 47.1 in May from 50.2 in April, once again dropping below the 50-point threshold. The decline is mainly attributed to a decrease in new orders and a slowdown in production. Industrial production in April grew by 1.2%. As for public finances, the government generated a deficit of 15,141 million PLN in the fourth month of the year, which brought the 12-month rolling budget deficit to 7.1% of GDP.
