

INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND

The Fund aims to achieve capital growth by investing in bonds of emerging European countries and state-owned companies. The Fund does not apply credit rating restrictions: it may purchase securities of any country or company with any long-term credit rating. The Fund aims for the highest possible capital growth alongside reasonable risk-taking. The Fund primarily purchases foreign currency emerging market bonds, in addition to which it holds Hungarian local currency short-term and long-term bonds for diversification and liquidity management purposes. The bond portfolio may also include short-term, long-term, fixed or floating-rate, structured and convertible bonds issued by mortgage credit institutions, other credit institutions, local governments or other business entities. The core of the Fund's investments is Central Eastern Europe (Hungary, Croatia, Poland, Romania, Slovakia, Ukraine), South East Europe (Serbia, Turkey), the Baltics (Latvia, Lithuania) and the Commonwealth of Independent States (Azerbaijan, Belarus, Kazakhstan, Russia, Georgia, Armenia) and bonds of majority state-owned companies, in addition to which the Fund holds short-term and long-term Hungarian government securities for diversification and liquidity management purposes. The target weight for bond exposures in the Fund in the 16 countries listed (target countries) is 95%. We do not set a limit on debt classification in the Fund. The Fund may only conclude derivative transactions for hedging purposes, or in the interest of establishing an efficient portfolio. The Fund may also hold non-leveraged bond-type collective investment forms. The Fund may also take on significant foreign currency exposure, which is normally covered 100% by the Fund Manager in the target currency (USD), but depending on market conditions, the Fund may also hold open foreign currency positions.

MARKET SUMMARY

Fiscal issues have once again taken centre stage for investors. In the U.S., the Senate's approval of President Trump's tax legislation - expected to add USD 3.3 trillion to the national debt over the next decade - underscores the country's ongoing fiscal challenges. Meanwhile, UK gilt yields surged after the government was compelled to scale back its welfare reform plans.

The past month (and quarter) unfolded more like a high-stakes thriller than a calm period for risk assets, including those in emerging markets. The investment landscape was shaped by a string of unexpected developments, beginning with President Trump's "Liberation Day" tariff announcements in early April. This was quickly followed by a number of policy reversals, including a temporary pause on reciprocal tariffs with China. Geopolitical tensions flared dramatically in June due to the conflict between Israel and Iran, causing oil prices to spike and sparking inflation concerns—especially for emerging market economies reliant on commodity imports. However, the rally in oil prices was short-lived, as a ceasefire between the two nations helped soothe investor nerves.

Despite the turbulence, emerging market assets delivered strong returns, with broad-based gains across the sector. Particularly notable was the performance of EM local currency debt, which recorded its best first-half showing since 2016 - driven by a weaker U.S. dollar and attractive valuations relative to fundamentals.

Last month, we made a modest increase in exposure to high-yield countries, while maintaining a more substantial allocation to high-quality issuers. We initiated a relative value trade, favoring Bahrain over Oman based on more attractive valuations. Additionally, we increased our position in Hungary following the successful issuance of new USD-denominated sovereign bonds, and opened tactical positions in Angola.
