

VIG Active Beta Flexible Allocation Inv Fund

U series USD MONTHLY report - 2025 JULY (made on: 07/31/2025)

INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND

The Fund's objective is to create an investment portfolio that is intended to achieve capital growth through active portfolio management, investing predominantly in US and European companies. Accordingly, the Fund Manager's investment portfolio is composed of developed-market equities, predominantly securities issued by US and European companies and short-term developed-market government bonds. The Fund pursues an active asset allocation policy. If the Fund Manager considers the prevailing capital market conditions to be unfavourable, it may significantly reduce equity exposure in order to protect capital. If capital market conditions appear ideal for taking equity exposure, the Fund Manager may invest the Fund's assets entirely in equities. On average over a full market cycle, the portfolio maintains an equity ratio of approximately 70%.

The Fund's investment universe includes the developed equity, bond and money markets. The Fund intends to hold liquidity related to trading needs in bank deposits or short-term developed-market government securities. As a general rule, of all the equities in the investment universe, the Fund intends to hold those that are considered the most popular among business partners, employees and investors.

The Fund Manager may significantly reduce equity exposure in the event of a break in a rising trend. In this situation, the Fund mainly holds foreign-currency money-market instruments in its portfolio. In the event of a rising market trend and increasing global risk appetite, the Fund will invest in developed-market equities as mentioned above.

The Fund invests at least 80% in assets that are issued and traded outside Hungary.

MARKET SUMMARY

In July, US equity indices repeatedly reached record highs, driven by favourable corporate earnings and robust economic data. However, ongoing trade negotiations kept investors on edge. Tariff threats resurfaced as a key concern, with markets adjusting to the reality that these trade barriers could significantly hinder economic growth in the second half of the year. Ongoing tensions, particularly with regard to negotiations with China and recent agreements with the EU, contributed to a cautious atmosphere among investors. The trade deal between the US and the EU was considered less favourable for the European Union, with European equities subsequently underperforming US equities.

Political dynamics also loomed large, particularly with regard to Federal Reserve Chair Jerome Powell. The tension between Powell and President Trump raised questions about the Fed's independence and its future direction. Meanwhile, geopolitical concerns remained, with President Trump adopting a tougher stance on Russia and calling for meaningful peace negotiations to begin between Russia and Ukraine.

Despite the prevailing trade and geopolitical uncertainty, our trend indicators remained positive for both US and European equities. Accordingly, the fund maintained its investment in selected US and European companies. During July, we held an average equity risk of 85%.
