

VIG Developed Market Short Term Bond Investment Fund

U series USD MONTHLY report - 2025 JULY (made on: 07/31/2025)

INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND

The aim of the Fund is to increase the euro savings held in the Fund, while assuming low interest-rate and credit risk. The Fund mainly buys short-term, euro-denominated bonds of investment-grade issuers, and aims to generate a return for investors through interest income and price gains on them. The Fund Manager invests the savings held in the Fund in short-term bonds denominated in euros. The Fund Manager assumes a low interest-rate risk; the modified duration of the portfolio is more than 6 months, but may not be higher than 2.5 years. The Fund also follows a cautious strategy in terms of assuming credit risk, investing a maximum of just 10% of its assets in bonds of non-investment grade or non-credit rated issuers. The Fund primarily invests in developed-market government securities, but this can also be supplemented by credit-institution, corporate and/or municipal bonds, as well as by term deposits and repo transactions. The Fund can also invest a small part of its portfolio in emerging markets. In addition, the Fund may invest in collective investment forms, and can fine-tune the design of its portfolio through the use of derivatives (stock-exchange and OTC transactions). The Fund invests exclusively in securities denominated in euros, and may hold currency assets in bank deposits or bank accounts only for the purpose of liquidity management and currency hedging. It is not possible to make individual investor decisions in the Fund. No individual investor's decisions can be made in the Fund.

MARKET SUMMARY

The Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) held the federal funds target range at 4.25– 4.50% in July, marking the fifth consecutive meeting with no change. Fed Chair J. Powell reinforced that the key data point to watch is now the unemployment rate, as both labour supply and demand show signs of cooling. The committee also flagged a slowdown in growth, noting in its statement that “growth of economic activity moderated” in the first half of the year. The U.S. dollar strengthened following the July FOMC meeting, with markets now viewing a September rate cut as a 50:50 probability – down from a 66% likelihood before the meeting. While near-term momentum supports the USD, downside risks persist. Structural and political factors, along with the eventual resumption of Fed easing, point to renewed pressure on the dollar. The base case remains for a gradual USD decline.

Yields and Credit: Diverging Paths Ahead

- Short-dated yields are expected to fall as the Fed resumes easing.
- Long-end yields may remain elevated due to limited room for risk premium compression and lingering tail risks.
- Market consensus still sees short-dated credit as offering a more attractive risk-reward profile in the current environment.

As growth slows and labour market data takes centre stage, monetary policy expectations will remain fluid. The market continues monitor Fed communication, inflation trends, and global developments for further insight into the evolving macro landscape.

Over the past month, we continued to overweight the portfolio's interest rate risk. Eurozone inflation remained below the European Central Bank's 2% inflation target in the recent months, so further interest rate cuts are expected in the second half of the year, which is also supportive for the Eurozone bond market. Fund's asset allocation remained unchanged.
