

VIG Developed Markets Government Bond Investment Fund

I series HUF MONTHLY report - 2025 JULY (made on: 07/31/2025)

INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND

The objective of the Fund is to create a highly defensive investment portfolio for its Investors, which typically invests in developed-market government bonds and related exchange-traded derivatives. According to the intentions of the Fund Manager, the bulk of the Fund's portfolio is made up of bonds issued by foreign states and foreign companies through public offerings. With regard to foreign securities, the Fund only purchases publicly traded securities listed on a foreign stock exchange. It keeps the planned share of non-investment grade securities low. The proportion of bonds that can be held in the Fund at any given time may reach the prevailing legal maximum. In order to ensure liquidity, the Fund may purchase Hungarian government securities (primarily discount treasury bills) and MNB bonds. The Fund Manager has the option, at its own discretion, of hedging all or part of its foreign exchange risks using forward currency positions subject to observing the applicable legal requirements.

MARKET SUMMARY

The Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) held the federal funds target range at 4.25– 4.50% in July, marking the fifth consecutive meeting with no change. Fed Chair J. Powell reinforced that the key data point to watch is now the unemployment rate, as both labour supply and demand show signs of cooling. The committee also flagged a slowdown in growth, noting in its statement that "growth of economic activity moderated" in the first half of the year. The U.S. dollar strengthened following the July FOMC meeting, with markets now viewing a September rate cut as a 50:50 probability – down from a 66% likelihood before the meeting. While near-term momentum supports the USD, downside risks persist. Structural and political factors, along with the eventual resumption of Fed easing, point to renewed pressure on the dollar. The base case remains for a gradual USD decline.

Yields and Credit: Diverging Paths Ahead

- Short-dated yields are expected to fall as the Fed resumes easing.
- Long-end yields may remain elevated due to limited room for risk premium compression and lingering tail risks.
- Market consensus still sees short-dated credit as offering a more attractive risk-reward profile in the current environment.

As growth slows and labour market data takes centre stage, monetary policy expectations will remain fluid. The market continues monitor Fed communication, inflation trends, and global developments for further insight into the evolving macro landscape.

The fund continues to take on higher interest rate risk than the benchmark index, primarily with regard to U.S. bonds, expecting that the U.S. growth outlook will deteriorate in the second half of the year, which could support the bond market. In June, we didn't make changes in the fund's allocation.
