

VIG Emerging Market ESG Equity Investment Fund

B series EUR MONTHLY report - 2025 JULY (made on: 07/31/2025)

INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND

The aim of the Fund is to share in the performance of companies benefiting from the growth of developing economies, through share price increases or dividend payments of listed companies, either directly (through investments in individual stocks) or indirectly (through ETFs or mutual Funds), while taking environmental, social and governance (ESG) criteria into account. The Fund does not directly invest in shares of Chinese companies within the emerging market universe. The geographical distribution is partly determined by the MSCI Emerging Markets Ex China Index, in which, besides a significant Asian (ex China) focus, European and Latin American companies are also heavily represented, and partly by the MSCI World with Emerging Markets (EM) Exposure Index, in which American and European companies represent the greatest weight. The use of stock and index futures is permitted in order to hedge and effectively build the Fund's portfolio. In selecting the stocks, the Fund pays special attention to the ESG compliance of individual companies; therefore, besides analysing financial factors, portfolio managers also consider environmental, social and governance factors in the investment decision process. The Fund Manager seeks to build a portfolio in which the positive ESG characteristics of companies prevail, i.e. companies with high ESG scores are overrepresented in the portfolio as compared to companies with low ESG scores.

The environmental criterion covers the elements where a business interacts with the environment. This includes, for example, the energy usage, waste management, and emission of pollutants of corporations, as well as the preservation of natural resources. Social criteria include all relations of a corporation with external partners, customers and internal employees. Corporate governance criteria include the legal conditions affecting the reliable operation of a corporation.

Due to the strategy of the Fund, it may also invest in assets denominated in foreign currency. The Fund may hedge some or all of its foreign currency risk using forward currency positions against the target currency, i.e. the settlement currency of the benchmark (USD). The Fund Manager has a discretionary right to reduce the foreign currency risk of positions denominated in a currency other than the target currency, depending on market developments, by entering into hedge transactions. In addition, the use of equity and index futures is permitted in order to effectively build the Fund's portfolio. The Fund records its assets in Hungarian forint (HUF).

MARKET SUMMARY

The approaching deadline for the Trump administration's planned tariff increases made July an exciting month. The turnaround in the weakening of the dollar in previous months and the US president's threat of high retaliatory tariffs against countries importing energy from Russia were decisive factors in investor sentiment regarding emerging markets. Among the largest country and regional components of the Fund and its benchmark index, this could primarily have a negative impact on India, as the Modi government has indicated that it does not intend to change its energy trade policy. Taiwan and South Korea, which also have significant exposure, have concluded a tariff agreement with the US. Uncertainty regarding customs tariffs has eased for both countries, despite a significant increase in customs tariffs on imports to the US compared to their previous status. The stock market indices of both countries rose above the Fund's composite benchmark and had a good month in both their own currencies and in dollars. The Central European region also had a positive month, this time with the Czech stock market outperforming. After a prolonged weakening in the second half of the month, the dollar found its footing. Higher-than-expected US inflation data brought back the strength of the greenback, which, coupled with the approaching August deadline for tariffs, caused some uncertainty in investor sentiment and resulted in volatility in both developed and emerging markets at the end of the month. In the Fund, we kept the weight of equities slightly below the target exposure, continuing to overweight regional and Greek equities, which was supported by the conclusion of the US-EU tariff agreement.
