CHF-I series MONTHLY report - 2025 AUGUST (made on: 08/31/2025)

INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND

MARKET SUMMARY

In Switzerland, inflation in August was in line with market expectations, as prices rose by 0.2% year-on-year. Second-quarter GDP growth largely matched market expectations, with the Swiss economy expanding by 0.1% quarter-on-quarter and 1.2% year-on-year. However, expectations for next year are pessimistic, as the 39% tariff imposed by Trump could significantly slow the country's growth. Although the State Secretariat for Economic Affairs does not foresee a recession, the tariffs could pose serious challenges for certain sectors and companies. During August, economic activity declined, with the KOF Swiss Economic Institute's economic barometer falling to 97.4 points from 101.3 the previous month. The negative developments affected the economy broadly, but the greatest pressure was placed on manufacturing and the hospitality industry. In Switzerland, short-term bond yields remained mostly unchanged in August. Up to maturities of three years, bond yields remain in negative territory.
