

INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND

The Fund's objective is to create an investment portfolio that is intended to achieve capital growth through active portfolio management, investing predominantly in US and European companies. Accordingly, the Fund Manager's investment portfolio is composed of developed-market equities, predominantly securities issued by US and European companies and short-term developed-market government bonds. The Fund pursues an active asset allocation policy. If the Fund Manager considers the prevailing capital market conditions to be unfavourable, it may significantly reduce equity exposure in order to protect capital. If capital market conditions appear ideal for taking equity exposure, the Fund Manager may invest the Fund's assets entirely in equities. On average over a full market cycle, the portfolio maintains an equity ratio of approximately 70%.

The Fund's investment universe includes the developed equity, bond and money markets. The Fund intends to hold liquidity related to trading needs in bank deposits or short-term developed-market government securities. As a general rule, of all the equities in the investment universe, the Fund intends to hold those that are considered the most popular among business partners, employees and investors.

The Fund Manager may significantly reduce equity exposure in the event of a break in a rising trend. In this situation, the Fund mainly holds foreign-currency money-market instruments in its portfolio. In the event of a rising market trend and increasing global risk appetite, the Fund will invest in developed-market equities as mentioned above.

The Fund invests at least 80% in assets that are issued and traded outside Hungary.

MARKET SUMMARY

September once again brought the prospect of a soft landing for the US economy into focus. Weaker-than-expected labor market and retail data reinforced expectations of rate cuts, while disinflation figures gave the Fed the confidence to restart its easing cycle without unsettling markets. The potential inflationary impact of Trump's tariffs has yet to materialize, allowing the Fed to downplay this risk for now. With slowing growth, inflation pressures easing, and monetary policy becoming more supportive, conditions have become favorable for the equity rally to broaden and for rotation into previously lagging sectors as year-end approaches. European markets painted a less optimistic picture. Weak macroeconomic data weighed on risk appetite, while political uncertainty — exemplified by the growing risk of a government crisis in France — added to volatility. Geopolitical tensions also persisted, as repeated Russian drone incursions into NATO airspace heightened fears of an escalation in the war in Ukraine. On a more positive note, the reduction of US car tariffs improved the outlook for German exports. With inflation stabilizing around 2%, the ECB kept policy rates unchanged, and markets currently see little prospect of further easing. Despite the prevailing macroeconomic and geopolitical uncertainty, our trend indicators remained positive for both US and European equities. Accordingly, the fund maintained its investment in selected US and European companies. During September, we held an average equity risk of 80%.
