MONTHLY report - 2025 SEPTEMBER (made on: 09/30/2025)

INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND

MARKET SUMMARY

In Switzerland, inflation in September slightly undershot market expectations, with prices rising by 0.2% year-on-year compared to the anticipated 0.3%. At its September rate-setting meeting, the Monetary Council kept the policy rate unchanged, which remains at 0%. The strong currency continues to pose a risk to the inflation outlook, and if U.S. tariffs cause the Swiss economy to show signs of weakness in the near future, a move into negative interest rate territory cannot be ruled out. During September, economic activity increased, with the KOF Swiss Economic Institute's economic barometer climbing to 98 points from 96.2 in the previous month. Short-term bond yields in Switzerland moved only slightly over the course of the month: the 1-year maturity rose by 1 basis point, while the 3-year maturity fell by 3 basis points.
