

VIG Developed Market Short Term Bond Investment Fund

EI series EUR MONTHLY report - 2025 NOVEMBER (made on: 11/30/2025)

INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND

The aim of the Fund is to increase the euro savings held in the Fund, while assuming low interest-rate and credit risk. The Fund mainly buys short-term, euro-denominated bonds of investment-grade issuers, and aims to generate a return for investors through interest income and price gains on them.

The Fund Manager invests the savings held in the Fund in short-term bonds denominated in euros. The Fund Manager assumes a low interest-rate risk; the modified duration of the portfolio is more than 6 months, but may not be higher than 2.5 years. The Fund also follows a cautious strategy in terms of assuming credit risk, investing a maximum of just 10% of its assets in bonds of non-investment grade or non-credit rated issuers. The Fund primarily invests in developed-market government securities, but this can also be supplemented by credit-institution, corporate and/or municipal bonds, as well as by term deposits and repo transactions. The Fund can also invest a small part of its portfolio in emerging markets. In addition, the Fund may invest in collective investment forms, and can fine-tune the design of its portfolio through the use of derivatives (stock-exchange and OTC transactions). The Fund invests exclusively in securities denominated in euros, and may hold currency assets in bank deposits or bank accounts only for the purpose of liquidity management and currency hedging. It is not possible to make individual investor decisions in the Fund.

No individual investor's decisions can be made in the Fund.

MARKET SUMMARY

Tariff uncertainty remains elevated, even as the U.S. has secured several trade agreements across Asia. Within the U.S. economy, certain inflation pressures persist, though easing rental inflation should help offset some of the upward momentum in the months ahead. While Chair Powell surprised markets by noting that a December rate cut is "not a foregone conclusion," investors still largely expect an easing move at that meeting, followed by an extended pause through 2026–27. Expectations also point to a 25-bps rate hike from the Bank of Japan in December. At the Bank of England, the baseline forecast now anticipates rate cuts beginning in February rather than April. In emerging markets, a combination of resilient global activity, Fed easing, and a softer—if not range-bound—U.S. dollar should keep conditions broadly supportive. EM equities continue to be the preferred asset class, helped by light investor positioning and appealing valuations.

Global growth remains steady as monetary policy paths diverge, and inflation pressure proves persistent. GDP growth for the year has slightly exceeded expectations, buoyed by strong export performance even as domestic demand stayed subdued in several Asian economies. Ongoing macro uncertainty and lingering inflation risks continue to restrain consumption and keep savings elevated. However, some EM economies—such as Poland, India, Chile, and Colombia—have benefited from cooling inflation and earlier rate-cut cycles. Markets are now pricing in more pronounced policy divergence: the Fed and several EM central banks are expected to continue easing, while most G10 central banks are nearing the end of their cutting cycles. Over the past month, sovereign yields climbed across most markets—including gilts, Bunds, and JGBs—while U.S. Treasury yields declined on softer labour data and dovish Fed communication. UK gilt yields briefly surged in mid-November amid sticky inflation and renewed fiscal concerns while 10-year Treasury yields later retraced. Over the past month, we maintained an overweight stance in the portfolio's interest rate risk. With Eurozone inflation running below the ECB's 2% target in recent months, additional rate cuts are anticipated next year, a trend that should continue to bolster Eurozone fixed-income markets. The fund's asset allocation remained unchanged.
