

VIG Active Beta Flexible Allocation Fund

HUF-RP series MONTHLY report - 2026 FEBRUARY (made on: 02/28/2026)
HUF

INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND

The Fund's objective is to create an investment portfolio that is intended to achieve capital growth through active portfolio management, investing predominantly in US and European companies. Accordingly, the Fund Manager's investment portfolio is composed of developed-market equities, predominantly securities issued by US and European companies and short-term developed-market government bonds. The Fund pursues an active asset allocation policy. If the Fund Manager considers the prevailing capital market conditions to be unfavourable, it may significantly reduce equity exposure in order to protect capital. If capital market conditions appear ideal for taking equity exposure, the Fund Manager may invest the Fund's assets entirely in equities. On average over a full market cycle, the portfolio maintains an equity ratio of approximately 70%.

The Fund's investment universe includes the developed equity, bond and money markets. The Fund intends to hold liquidity related to trading needs in bank deposits or short-term developed-market government securities. As a general rule, of all the equities in the investment universe, the Fund intends to hold those that are considered the most popular among business partners, employees and investors.

The Fund Manager may significantly reduce equity exposure in the event of a break in a rising trend. In this situation, the Fund mainly holds foreign-currency money-market instruments in its portfolio. In the event of a rising market trend and increasing global risk appetite, the Fund will invest in developed-market equities as mentioned above.

The Fund invests at least 80% in assets that are issued and traded outside Hungary.

MARKET SUMMARY

It was a real rollercoaster ride on the US stock market in February, with news about artificial intelligence and political moves driving prices. Macroeconomic indicators presented a mixed picture. Retail sales remained unchanged, while the labor market report was rather positive. The unemployment rate stood at 4.3%, and the consumer price index (CPI) eased; however, producer price inflation remained high. The minutes of the Monetary Policy Council meeting left open the possibility of an interest rate hike, while President Trump nominated Kevin Warsh, who is committed to lowering interest rates, as the new chairman of the central bank. Political volatility was further heightened when the Supreme Court overturned tariffs that were to take effect in 2025, prompting President Trump to impose new import tariffs of around 10%. The suspension of redemptions by Blue Owl, a private credit fund that mainly lends to software development companies, drew attention to business models that are being disrupted by the rise of AI, such as software development and financial and tax consulting, causing a significant decline in the share prices of companies involved in these areas. European stocks benefited from investors turning away from the software sector and toward more traditional areas. Growing geopolitical tensions between the United States and Iran sparked renewed interest in European defense companies such as Rolls-Royce and Saab. Due to increased volatility, the fund reduced its US equity allocation in February, while maintaining its position in European growth stocks.
