

VIG Czech Short Term Bond Investment Fund

A series CZK MONTHLY report - 2026 FEBRUARY (made on: 02/28/2026)

INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND

The Fund aims to increase the value of its assets under management and to provide investors with a higher yield than Czech bank deposits and short-term bonds over a period of 1 to 2 years. No individual investor's decisions can be made in the Fund. The Fund Manager selects portfolio elements in accordance with the above principles. When making investment decisions, the tools of fundamental analysis and technical analysis are used, and the current market sentiment is also taken into account. The Fund primarily invests in discount treasury bills issued by the Czech State, sovereign bonds, bonds of quasi-sovereign companies, or bonds or deposit-like instruments issued by the Czech National Bank, the European Central Bank or the central bank of another Member State of the European Union. To a limited extent, the portfolio may include government securities, state-guaranteed bonds, corporate bonds (including those issued by financial institutions) and mortgage bonds with at least investment-grade credit rating. Investments may be made in Czech crowns or, to a limited extent, in other currencies. In the case of assets denominated in a currency other than Czech crowns, the Asset Manager shall strive to fully hedge foreign exchange risks (there cannot be a difference of more than 5% between the currency exposure of the derivative transaction and that of the asset to be hedged).

The Fund may enter into deposit and repo transactions, invest - to a limited extent - in units in collective investment undertakings, and derivatives may as well be used (for the purposes of hedging or building an efficient portfolio).

MARKET SUMMARY

In the Czech Republic, the latest February inflation reading came in slightly below market expectations. According to preliminary data, prices increased by 1.4% year-on-year. Price growth in services remains elevated, although some slowdown compared to the previous month is already visible. Energy prices were unchanged on a month-on-month basis, but on a year-on-year basis they still show a decline of nearly 8%. At the rate-setting meeting held in early February, the Monetary Council left the policy rate unchanged at 3.5%. The next decision will take place in mid-March; however, due to the higher oil prices resulting from the Iranian conflict, a rate cut from the Czech National Bank is unlikely. In the fourth quarter, according to the final data, the Czech economy recorded annual GDP growth of 2.6%, with the main driver continuing to be strong domestic consumption. During the month, short-term bond yields remained mostly unchanged. At the one-year maturity, yields increased by 3 basis points, while at the three-year maturity yields stood at 3.46% at the end of February.
