

VIG Developed Markets Government Bond Investment Fund

I series HUF MONTHLY report - 2026 APRIL (made on: 04/30/2026)

INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND

The objective of the Fund is to create a highly defensive investment portfolio for its Investors, which typically invests in developed-market government bonds and related exchange-traded derivatives. According to the intentions of the Fund Manager, the bulk of the Fund's portfolio is made up of bonds issued by foreign states and foreign companies through public offerings. With regard to foreign securities, the Fund only purchases publicly traded securities listed on a foreign stock exchange. It keeps the planned share of non-investment grade securities low. The proportion of bonds that can be held in the Fund at any given time may reach the prevailing legal maximum. In order to ensure liquidity, the Fund may purchase Hungarian government securities (primarily discount treasury bills) and MNB bonds. The Fund Manager has the option, at its own discretion, of hedging all or part of its foreign exchange risks using forward currency positions subject to observing the applicable legal requirements.

MARKET SUMMARY

April was overshadowed by the blockade of the Strait of Hormuz: the leading index of the New York Stock Exchange, the S&P 500, started the month at the yearly low, then rose to a record high on news of a US-Iran ceasefire, then faltered as peace talks stalled. The index finally closed up at the end of the month, but the rise remained concentrated: technology and AI held the market, while the energy sector lost its war premium. Although the VIX (volatility index) decreased, the sustainability of the bull market is questioned by the fact that the rally took place in a narrow range of stocks, while "breadth indicators" that compare the number of rising and falling stocks deteriorated. The Fed, which plays the role of the central bank, refrained from changing interest rates in April, but the market gradually revised its easing expectations during the month, as the oil price shock projects permanently higher inflation. Eurozone inflation rose to 2.5% in March, driven by the energy price shock. The European Central Bank kept its key interest rate unchanged in April, contrary to expectations, as policymakers are waiting for the war effects to fade before easing. EU core inflation stood at 2.4% at the end of March, but the gradual impact of the energy shock is expected to be reflected in Q2 data.

In April, the Hungarian forint strengthened by nearly 5% against the euro and by 6.5% against the dollar, which reduced the value of the hard-currency bonds held in the fund when expressed in forints. In addition, due to the prolonged Iranian conflict, bond yields showed a moderate increase over the past month, meaning bond prices declined slightly. Regarding the portfolio composition, we reduced holdings of Belgian and EU bonds with tighter yield spreads, while increasing exposure to Romanian bonds and purchasing Greek government bonds.
