

VIG CZECH SHORT TERM BOND INVESTMENT FUND

I series CZK

MONTHLY report - 2026 JULY (made on: 07/31/2026)

INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND

The Fund aims to increase the value of its assets under management and to provide investors with a higher yield than Czech bank deposits and short-term bonds over a period of 1 to 2 years. No individual investor's decisions can be made in the Fund. The Fund Manager selects portfolio elements in accordance with the above principles. When making investment decisions, the tools of fundamental analysis and technical analysis are used, and the current market sentiment is also taken into account. The Fund primarily invests in discount treasury bills issued by the Czech State, sovereign bonds, bonds of quasi-sovereign companies, or bonds or deposit-like instruments issued by the Czech National Bank, the European Central Bank or the central bank of another Member State of the European Union. To a limited extent, the portfolio may include government securities, state-guaranteed bonds, corporate bonds (including those issued by financial institutions) and mortgage bonds with at least investment-grade credit rating. Investments may be made in Czech crowns or, to a limited extent, in other currencies. In the case of assets denominated in a currency other than Czech crowns, the Asset Manager shall strive to fully hedge foreign exchange risks (there cannot be a difference of more than 5% between the currency exposure of the derivative transaction and that of the asset to be hedged).

The Fund may enter into deposit and repo transactions, invest - to a limited extent - in units in collective investment undertakings, and derivatives may as well be used (for the purposes of hedging or building an efficient portfolio).

MARKET SUMMARY

The ceasefire signed between Iran and the United States in June proved to be short-lived, as tensions in the Middle East escalated once again in mid-July. Following the relative calm seen after the June agreement, missile, drone, and maritime attacks resumed on a regular basis. The Strait of Hormuz remained the focal point of the conflict. Global oil prices rose significantly again during the month, although they remained well below the previous peak. Diplomatic efforts took a back seat, although mediation attempts periodically emerged, eventually contributing to some normalization in oil prices. As a result, Czech government bond yields mostly moved higher during the month. Yields at the one-year maturity increased by 18 basis points during the month, while three-year government bond yields rose by 28 basis points. No monetary policy meeting was held in July. Nevertheless, central bank officials continued to deliver relatively hawkish communication. As a result, the early August policy meeting is likely to come down to a decision between keeping interest rates unchanged and implementing a rate hike. According to market expectations, inflation likely edged higher in July, with market participants anticipating annual inflation of 1.7%. According to the preliminary estimate, economic growth moderated somewhat in the second quarter, with the Czech Statistical Office reporting annual GDP growth of 2.0%. Markets continue to price in one additional rate hike by the Czech National Bank in 2026.
