

INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND

MARKET SUMMARY

In September, the US– Iran conflict remained intense, while the partial blockade of the Strait of Hormuz and limited shipping activity posed significant risks to oil and LNG supplies. In the second half of the month, diplomatic efforts intensified with the involvement of Qatar and other mediators, but by the end of September, the parties had failed to reach an agreement on a ceasefire and the full reopening of the Strait of Hormuz. Amid the uncertain outlook, oil prices rose again in September, with Brent increasing by around 14% m/m to USD 103.5 per barrel. Polish bond yields increased over the course of the month, with the 3-year yield rising by 50 basis points, 5-year yield rising by 45 basis points and the 10-year yield by 25 basis points. At the monetary policy meeting in early September, the National Bank of Poland left the policy rate unchanged at 3.75%. Based on preliminary data, inflation increased to 4.0% from 3.4% in the previous month, in line with market expectations. The increase was again driven by higher fuel prices. Industrial production grew by 4.3% year-on-year in the eighth month of 2026. Retail sales were somewhat weaker, with year-on-year growth of 3.8%. During the month, Moody's downgraded Poland's long-term sovereign credit rating by one notch from A2 to A3. According to the rating agency, the country's fiscal position has deteriorated on a sustained basis, while the government's willingness to rebuild fiscal buffers remains limited despite favorable economic conditions. The outlook was changed from negative to stable. Due to the global bond market developments and geopolitical situation in Iran we remained cautious.
