VIG MARATHON SELECTION FUND

A series HUF MONTHLY report - 2026 OCTOBER (made on: 10/31/2026)

INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND

The aim of the Fund is to create an investment portfolio that achieves annualised capital growth for investors higher than the benchmark over a 3-year time horizon while achieving the Fund's Sustainability Objectives. With a view to achieving these objectives, the Fund may invest in a variety of instruments, i.e. it holds primarily equity and bond-type instruments, while it may also invest in collective securities and enter into derivative transactions, subject in each case to the relevant investment limits. The fund does not have a geographical specification. In order to realise the investment objectives, the asset groups in the Fund's portfolio may be varied freely, without having to adhere to a predetermined risk profile. The Fund's investment strategy is based on sustainable value creation, aiming to build an actively managed and sufficiently diverse portfolio that takes into account both sustainability criteria and the fundamentals of the assets held. The Fund's asset allocation strategy is based on the asset allocation model used by the Fund Manager, the Investment Clock, used by the Fund Manager to determine the asset mix with the best risk to return potential at a given point of the economic cycle. In addition to asset allocation, the Fund Manager aims to achieve the financial and sustainability objectives of the Fund through active stock and bond selection policies. Stock selection is based on sustainable growth, through the selection of stocks of companies able to achieve outstanding performance both financially and in terms of ESGrisks, thus creating long-term shareholder value. When selecting bonds, the Fund Manager seeks to maximise the proportion of green bond issues, taking into account existing market constraints.

MARKET SUMMARY

In October, three mutually reinforcing forces shaped the money and capital markets: doubts about the finance ability of the investment cycle linked to artificial intelligence, persistently high real yields, and oil prices above $110 due to the escalation in the Middle East. At its October meeting, the Federal Reserve kept its benchmark interest rates unchanged, even though an interest rate hike had been priced in just a month earlier. The 10-year yield fell from a peak of 5.3% to below 5%. This was not driven by disinflation, but rather by expectations of a slowdown in AI-related bond issuance. Although the S&P 500 hit a new high early in the month, this was followed by the longest losing streak for semiconductor stocks since 2008. The main risk remains the November 3 midterm elections and the subsequent likelihood of a U.S. military strike against Iran. In Europe, inflation has remained above 3%, shifting the balance within the European Central Bank toward further tightening. The French yield spread widened to more than 170 basis points, and the 10-year yield temporarily exceeded 5%. The auto and luxury sectors were dragged down by weak Chinese demand, while AI-related electric vehicle stocks were weighed down by global market sentiment.

The Fund closed the month of October with a decline of nearly 1.4%. The Fund’s correction was primarily driven by its exposure to developed European equities. Due to uncertainty surrounding artificial intelligence investments in the European market, European semiconductor and industrial companies also corrected, including ASML and Schneider Electric, both of which are holdings of the Fund. At the same time, European bank stocks also fell due to escalating French debt problems, which further reduced the Fund’s value. In contrast, the Fund’s exposures to the automotive and energy sectors supported performance, as did OTP shares, which we purchased following the correction. The bond exposure contributed positively to performance during the month.
