MARKET SUMMARY:

Global conditions did not deteriorate further in December, though a significant degree of anxiety remains concerning growth and the sustainability of debt in much of the developed world. This sustained negative sentiment was reflected in stubbornly wide spreads on risky assets, range trading in equities and a weakening of the euro against the US dollar in December. Credit and cash spreads remain wide and issuance activity is dead despite generally healthy corporate balance sheets as global macro woes overshadow the market. Oil prices eased somewhat on growth concerns, but found support in the second half of December as tensions in the Persian Gulf revived. Regardless of the solid prices, commodity linked equities remained under pressure.
