MARKET SUMMARY:

Major equity indices eased for the most part of April as slowdown worries weighed on the market. Several key macro data published in April showed some sign of deterioration in growth prospects. However, the US corporate earnings season once again delivered a positive message with two thirds of the reporting companies surpassing analyst expectations on the net profit level. The bleak EU macro outlook was represented in the underperformance of the European markets as well, while the S&P 500 remained relatively resilient to the market correction in April. Polish equity market fell by 3.2% in EUR terms, lagged the Hungarian market, which closed in flat, but overperformed the Czech composite by 1%. The worst performing sectors was the constructions, PBG and Polimex plugged by 35% and 25% respectively. The best performing sector was the retail again, led by Eurocash (+10%) and LPP (7.8%). Oil sector showed a mixed performance, Lotos gained on improving refining environment, but PKN only performed in-line with the market. After 3 month of slide, we became more positive on the Polish market as it reached the lower line of the mid-term trend channel.
