MARKET SUMMARY:

International markets continued to weaken in April. Macro dataflow confirmed declining economic activity while tensions in the Eurozone resurfaced again (Spain came into spotlight) which was mirrored in rising periphery bond spreads while Bund yields hit new lows on safe haven buying. The fund's core market bond holdings performed well on the back of this but the unhedged FX position weighed heavily on the fund's absolute performance. Some of our off-benchmark positions caused 27bps underperformance compared to the benchmark.
