MARKET SUMMARY:

International sentiment was driven by fears of nearing Fed tapering again which caused significant fall of bond prices globally, especially weighing on emerging markets. As investor sentiment turned to be negative and another round of significant capital outflows hit emerging markets, polish bond prices decreased materially: almost the whole yield curve shifted upwards by 40-60 bps. Local story played a role mostly in the short end of the yield curve: given the signs of an upswing in economy and a bit higher inflation FRAs are higher, though we expect that, policy rate will be unchanged for the foreseeable future.
