INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND:

The objective of the Fund is to provide capital return for the investors within the appropriate risk limits. The aim of the Fund is to achieve the highest possible return for a given risk level by buying undervalued stocks and fixed income assets and selling overvalued instruments. The Fund is allowed to buy shares, bonds and other instruments, to open short positions on the spot market, to take long and short forward and future positions. Moreover, the Fund can trade on the option market. The portfolio of the Fund is separated into three classes according to their investment objective: Instruments of the first class consist of long positions of long term, fundamentally undervalued, and short positions of overvalued equities. The method of stock picking is identical with the applied methods of Aegon equity related funds and mainly concentrate to the CEE regional markets, although the Fund is allowed to invest in other emerging and developed market instruments. The second class of the Fund's instruments implement the top-down equity strategy of Aegon Asset Management Co., mainly with long and short positions on the futures markets. These positions are based on the scores of the so-called "quadrant model", which is the internal asset allocation model of the Asset Management Company. Instruments of the third class involve the fixed income part of the Fund. The aim of the third class is to reach or exceed the performance of the RMAX Index. The target weight of the first and second classes altogether is 45%.

MARKET SUMMARY:

Equity markets started 2016 with sharp selloff induced by deteriorating global macro picture. Commodity prices were under huge pressure especially crude oil, which tumbled to decade lows on storage capacity concerns. Precious metals, on the other hand, managed to appreciate supported by the weakening of the USD vs. EUR. Regardless of the somewhat better macro prospects, European indices once again lagged behind the S&P500 in January.

The fall of the global equity markets continued in January, which didn't helped the investments of the fund. Despite of the correction, the fund managed to close the month well, mainly thanks to the active risk and position management. We maintain the average weight of the equities under the target equity weight in the next period. Although we see some attractive entry points in individual stocks, we plan to decrease the risk with short index futures.
