Aegon Smart Money Fund of Funds

INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND

The Fund's objective is to establish a portfolio for its Investors that generates positive returns – higher than the yields available on the domestic money market – under all circumstances, i.e. the Fund pursues a "total return" strategy. The Fund seeks to achieve this goal by selecting, through various analytical techniques, the asset classes and investment funds that have the greatest price growth potential and make investments through the purchase of investment units and collective investment securities. The Fund invests primarily in investment funds managed by Aegon Magyarország Befektetési Alapkezelő Zrt., but may also purchase other investment funds and collective investment securities in its portfolio for diversification purposes or if the given asset class is not yet covered by the Fund Manager's funds. In order to ensure liquidity, the Fund may hold in its portfolio discount treasury bills and government bonds issued by the Government Debt Management Agency (ÁKK), interest-bearing securities guaranteed by the Hungarian State, and bonds issued by the MNB. As the range of possible investments includes investments denominated in foreign currency, ETFs and investment units, the Fund's investors may also bear some foreign exchange risk. According to the Fund's investment policy, it invests or may invest more than 80 percent of its assets in investment units or other securities issued by a collective investment undertaking. However, the Fund does not intend to hold more than 20% weight in any one investment fund, except for the Aegon Money Market Fund, Aegon Domestic Bond Fund, Aegon Panoráma Derivative Fund and Aegon Ázon Maraton Active Mixed Fund, Aegon Panoráma Derivative Fund and Aegon ÓzonMaxx Absolute Return Fund, the weight of which may be as much as 100% within the Fund's portfolio.

MARKET SUMMARY

In July, the focus for investors remained on inflation and whether central banks can and will do anything about it. Although the US and European central banks have raised interest rates, these levels are still a long way from being able to make a meaningful impact on inflation. This situation is likely to persist for the rest of the year until investors are convinced that inflation has indeed peaked.

The US Federal Reserve raised interest rates again in July by 75 basis points, so the Fed fund's rate is now 2.50%, which is very low compared to inflation of 9%. Perhaps the biggest challenge facing the Fed is to maintain its creditworthiness. If the markets perceive that the Fed does not want to keep interest rates above a certain level, even though inflation is not yet under control, it may cause very serious structural problems.

Europe faces even bigger problems, which the Russian-Ukrainian war escalates even further. Inflation here is also very high, but the biggest problem is the energy supply. Russian gas is not coming in as much as in the past and this is having a negative impact on economic performance. If this continues into the winter period, some forecasts suggest that European economic performance could fall by 20-30%.

Hungary is no exception to the effects of inflation and the central bank is aggressively raising interest rates to curb consumption. The base rate is already 10.75% and another 100 basis point hike is priced in by the market for August. Unfortunately, Hungarian inflation is being impacted by a steadily weakening forint, but perhaps the region's highest interest rate environment will stop the Hungarian currency from weakening further.

The fund posted a negative return in July. Funds that have less exposure to the bond market, such as the Panorama Fund, performed well, while funds that are preparing for the recession, such as Alfa, suffered the biggest loss.
