

INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND

The objective of the Fund is to create a highly defensive investment portfolio for its Investors, which typically invests in developed-market government bonds and related exchange-traded derivatives. According to the intentions of the Fund Manager, the bulk of the Fund's portfolio is made up of bonds issued by foreign states and foreign companies through public offerings. With regard to foreign securities, the Fund only purchases publicly traded securities listed on a foreign stock exchange. It keeps the planned share of non-investment grade securities low. The proportion of bonds that can be held in the Fund at any given time may reach the prevailing legal maximum. In order to ensure liquidity, the Fund may purchase Hungarian government securities (primarily discount treasury bills) and MNB bonds. The Fund Manager has the option, at its own discretion, of hedging all or part of its foreign exchange risks using forward currency positions subject to observing the applicable legal requirements.

MARKET SUMMARY

Last month, the Chinese GDP figure for the first quarter of the year showed a surprisingly strong recovery of 2.2% QoQ after 0.6% in Q4 '22. The Eurozone composite PMI increased for the sixth consecutive month and hit its highest level in almost a year, driven by services. US core PCE inflation came in higher than expected for Q1 '23, while national April CPI data published so far for Eurozone countries suggests core inflation may have peaked. US GDP growth slowed to 0.3% QoQ (non-annualized) in Q1 '23, while Eurozone GDP growth picked up slightly, to 0.1% QoQ. German IFO business expectations rose for a sixth-consecutive last month. The FED minutes revealed that "several" participants had considered a pause while "some" others contemplated a 50bp hike. In the euro area, European Central Bank (ECB) rhetoric started to tilt again to the hawkish side, while industrial production expanded solidly for a second consecutive month. On the mid-March ECB meeting ECB President Christine Lagarde confirmed that according to their expectations further rate hikes are likely. Investors have become more cautious in the past few days, with stocks declining moderately in both Europe and the US. Rates markets have been well supported, especially at shorter tenors. In FX, EUR-USD fell below 1.10 after reaching a new YTD peak of 1.1095. Credit spreads have gradually widened across the board after a mixed earnings season. We closed positions in Austrian and Spanish short-term government bonds along with opening positions in the Deutsche Bank corporate bonds as well as in the BPCE SFH SA ones, both are relatively short-term.
