

INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND

The objective of the investment fund is to make the Polish bond market accessible to the investors, and to function as a relatively stable, medium-risk investment form bringing steady real yields to our Clients on middle term already, without having to tie down their money for a fixed period of time. The Fund mainly invests in Polish government securities issued in zloty, however, the portfolio manager has some room to complement the portfolio with other bond-type investments. Our goal is to achieve the highest yield while taking the lowest risk. To make investment decisions we use the tools of both fundamental and technical analysis, and we take into consideration the investor sentiment on the markets at all times. The portfolio manager seeks out potential investment opportunities based on the macro-economical expectations, the expected yield curve, the return expected on the curve and the market volatility, and selects investments that are considered to be safe and bring relatively high yields in exchange for the risks taken. The Fund strives for complete exchange risk coverage of foreign currency exposure for the target currency.

MARKET SUMMARY

In September, Polish bonds showed mixed performance: the short and mid part of the yield curve moved lower, yields on the three-year maturity decreased by 23 basis points, and on the five-year maturity by 13 basis points. However, in the 10-year segment, there was a 30 basis point yield increase in September. At the beginning of the month, the Polish central bank surprised the market with a much larger-than-expected 75 basis point interest rate cut, bringing the key rate to 6%. Market expectations had projected a maximum 25 basis points cut but rather waited for no change. Investors priced in a policy error as along with falling short term yields, long term yields even increased, resulting in a much steeper Polish yield curve. Parliamentary elections are scheduled for mid-October, so further interest rate cuts are expected at the beginning of October, most probably by a smaller size (rather 25bps than 50bps), but neither 75bps nor 0bps can't be ruled out. Preliminary data indicate that in September, year-on-year inflation in Poland decreased from 10.1% in August to 8.2%. Therefore, inflation is currently at levels not seen since October 2021, primarily due to lower fuel and food prices and administrative measures implemented by the government. Headline inflation would allow again a bigger cut in October in the short run, however the significant depreciation of PLN may limit the size of the next cut. Uncertainty is much higher, than usual. According to Bloomberg's September survey, the Polish economy is expected to grow by 0.5% this year and by 2.7% next year. The Purchasing Managers' Index (PMI) rose to 43.9 in September from the previous month's 43.1, slightly above the market expectation of 43.7. The index is still below the 50 threshold, indicating a contraction, as both output and new orders continued to decline due to the uncertain economic environment and high inflation. In August, industrial production recorded a 2% decrease, which was below the market expectation of -1.7%. Regarding the state budget, the government generated a deficit of 408.65 million PLN in the seventh month, bringing the rolling 12-month budget deficit to 1.84% of GDP.
